My favourite teacher is Miss Wong. She is short and thin. She has a small nose and she does not wear glasses. Her birthday is on the sixth of April. She has a younger brother. She lives in Choi Wan and she goes to school on foot. She likes playing badminton and going cycling. She likes playing the piano too.

Miss Wong teaches me English and General Studies. I write English poems and speak in English in the English lessons. I think the lessons are interesting and enjoyable. I enjoy the school picnic and Christmas party with Miss Wong too!

Miss Wong teaches me patiently and she is friendly, loving and attentive. She is gentle because she is kind and quiet and she speaks softly. She is thoughtful because she always thinks of what others need and cares about how others feel. I want Miss Wong to be my teacher next year.

My favourite fable

3L Lai Tsun Ki, Marcus

My favourite fable is 'The Ants and the Grasshopper'. The author is Aesop. I like it because the ants are very hard-working.

The main characters are the grasshopper and the ants. In the beginning of the story, the ants are very hard-working to store food. The grasshopper is very lazy and usually plays.

The main theme is the grasshopper does not store food in four seasons. In the end, the grasshopper decides to prepare food for the winter.

This fable teaches me that it is important to prepare for the future.

My favourite fable is 'The Hare and the Tortoise'. The author is Daniel Howarth. I like it because it is interesting.

In the fable, there is a hare and tortoise. The hare says nobody can run faster than him and he laughs at the tortoise walking slowly. The tortoise feels angry. They decide to have a race to see who can win.

The hare runs fast at the beginning. He sees the tortoise walking so slowly, so he sleeps for a while. When he wakes up, he sees the tortoise is near the winning spot. Finally, the tortoise wins.

This fable tells me hardworking can things successful and we should not be arrogant.

A New School Event - Baking Day

3T Andrew Wan

I want to have Baking Day on the first of May at school. During the day, we can bake cakes, biscuits and some special snacks.

We can also take videos and photos on that day. Also, students can create a personal baking diary by using those videos and photos.

I like Baking Day because I like sweet food. I want to act as a chef to make delicious sweet snacks for my classmates and teachers. I feel happy and excited.

A New School Event - Sharing Day

3T Denise Lai

I want to have Sharing Day on 17th May at school because I want to share something with other people.

We can share some food, books and toys. We can also tell some funny stories and share the happiness with our classmates and teachers. It's going to be fun.

I feel happy and excited about the event. I can't wait to share on that day.
