Miss Mak is my favourite teacher. She is tall and she has long hair. She does not wear glasses. Everyday she goes to school by minibus.

She teaches us English and Computer Studies. In English lessons, I am very serious and I am the English Ambassador. I enjoy English class very much because I can learn many interesting words. My special memory with Miss Mak was the role-play on zoom. I was very happy and excited.

Miss Mak will give us candies or chocolate when we behave well. She is helpful and friendly because she always helps with our homework and she does not laugh at us. I hope she will be my English teacher again next year.

My favourite teacher is Miss Mak. She has a beautiful face. She is tall and thin. There are three people in her family. She lives with her husband and her daughter.

Miss Mak's lessons are interesting. I enjoy her lessons. Sometimes she plays with us. It is lots of fun. Last year, Miss Mak went on the school picnic with us and we played basketball together. It was great.

Miss Mak is nice because if I am wrong, she will teach me kindly. She is clever too because she can spell all the English words. I think Miss Mak is a good teacher and I love her so much. I want her to be my English teacher next year.

Today was my birthday. In the morning, I went to Lantau Country Park with Mary and Zoe. We went hiking because we wanted to look at the beautiful view and I wanted to see some cute little birds too! I saw a lot of birds in the sky. I was so happy! I saw some butterflies and bees flying on the beautiful flowers. We were so joyful and relaxed.

Suddenly, we saw a poor little bird. It hurt its wing. It was poor. I was really sad because it was my favourite animal! I shouted, 'Oh no! There is a bird.' We felt nervous and worried! Mary said, 'Don't wait. We need to help the bird!' So we decided to take some water to help the bird.

I ran to the lake and knelt down by the lake. I used a leaf and took some water from the lake because we wanted to help the bird to clean the wounds. I rushed back quickly. I said in a soft voice, 'We will help you little bird.' 'Let me clean your wounds. Do you feel hurt?' said Mary.

In the end, we took the bird to see the vet. The vet said, 'The bird is better now.' After we heard that we were relieved. Then the vet helped the bird to cover its wounds. We took the bird back to the country park. The bird was happy. It ate some fruit too! We felt joyful.

It was such a wonderful and meaningful birthday because it was the first time I helped a little bird. I was glad we could save the poor bird.

Today was my birthday. At 9 o'clock this morning, I went to Sai Kung Country Park with Kelly and Kitty. We went hiking because we wanted to look at the pretty view, had a picnic and took photos. We saw beautiful flowers, a lot of big tall trees and many birds flying in the sky. I could hear some birds singing. What a wonderful day! We were relaxed and glad.

On the way of our hiking, we saw a poor little bird. Its wing got hurt and it was bleeding. We felt really shocked and worried. Kitty suggested, 'We can help the bird to clean the wounds!' Kelly and I nodded our heads. So we decided to look after and help the pity bird. We wanted to get some water for the little bird.

I ran to a lake knelt down by the lake. I didn't have a water bottle so I used a leaf to take some water. Kitty comforted the bird, 'Don't worry little bird. We will help you.' 'Hurry up! Or it will die!' yelled Kelly. 'I'm fast now!' I replied and I rushed to Kitty and Kelly.

We cleaned the bird's wounds but the bird looked very painful. We took it to the vet. The vet used a bandage to cover its wounds and said, 'Don't be afraid! The bird will be fine!' After a few hours, the bird felt better and flew away. We felt relieved. I looked at the sky as I hoped that we can meet again.

It was such an unforgettable day since I saved the poor little bird. I was joyful that the vet praised us.

Today is my birthday. I went hiking with Kelly and May. In the morning, we went to Pok Fu Lam Country Park. There was a large grassy field, a lot of trees, some birds, bugs, butterflies, bees and a pond. We felt joyful and great. It was a very beautiful place.

First, we walked up the hill. We chatted and took some photos together. On the way, we saw a small bird on the ground. Its wing was bleeding, so it couldn't fly. We were worried. We decided to help the bird to clean its wing, but we did not have any water or water bottles.

After that, I picked a big leaf to get some water from the pond. After I got the water, we washed its wing and it was better, but it still could not fly. We were frustrated.

In the end, we decided to bring it back to my home and look after it. Mum saw the bird was hurt, so she gave it some food. Finally, it could sing again. It cheered us up. It was my best birthday gift. I had a wonderful birthday.

Today is my birthday. I went hiking with Sally and Molly. In the morning, we went to Aberdeen Country Park by bus. We saw some birds, bugs, trees, flowers, a lot of butterflies and a pond. It was a very beautiful place.

First, we walked up the hill. We chatted and took photos. Suddenly, we saw a little bird in the bush. Its wing was wounded and bleeding. We were worried and helpless. Sally said its wing was hurt. Molly suggest us to help it. I told them to find some water. We decided to clean its wound, but we didn't have any water bottles.

At that time, I found a river, so I picked a big leaf to get water. Later, I returned to them and we washed its wound. It was better, but it still could not fly. We were afraid that it might die.

In the end, we covered the bird and went down the hill quickly. Suddenly, we saw a bird similar to ours, but it was a bit bigger. It was the bird's mum and it brought the little one home We felt awkward. I was very curious that where they would go but it was an interesting birthday.

Today is my birthday. In the morning, I had breakfast at home. Then, I went to Lantau Country Park with my best friends Kelly and May.

At ten o'clock, we took some beautiful photos. Then, we played ball games and flew a kite. At twelve o'clock, we had a picnic at a picnic site. We felt happy because we could see a lot of birds there.

When we were eating, we saw a bird near a tree. It was hurt. I was so shocked. We were worried about it. I said, 'Poor little bird. Let me save you.' "We need to help the bird," said May.

Then, I took a leaf to get some water. I cleaned its wound. I said to my friends, "Hurry up! Let's save the bird."

In the end, we found the park keeper and he called the Agriculture Fisheries and Conservation Department. The staff took the bird to the vet. The staff said to us, "Don't worry! When the bird recovers, we will send it back to nature."

I hope it will get well soon.

Today was my birthday. I went hiking with my friends, Toruana and Kelly. We had a picnic in Bird Country Park. We went hiking because we wanted to see some birds. We saw a lot of colourful birds. We ate chips and played football. We were excited.

Suddenly, we saw a bird. It got hurt on its left wing. Kelly said, "Oh no! Are you OK?" Toruana and Kelly suggested me to give some water for the bird to drink.

I said, "Leave it to me. I can do this!" So I got some water for the bird from the lake because it was tired and it got hurt. I went back to find Toruana and Kelly. I brought the water to the bird with a leaf.

In the end, Toruana, Kelly and I helped the bird find its mum. The wounds were healed. The bird's mum sang a song for us to say thank you.

It was an unforgettable experience! I was glad to help others when someone needs help.

Today was my birthday. I went hiking with my friends, Luna and Amber. We enjoyed the beautiful view in Happy Country Park. We went hiking because we wanted to get some fresh air. We saw some animals, flowers and a lot of people. We ate some snacks and flew a kite together. We felt excited.

Suddenly, we saw a little bird running and hiding behind a tree. We ran to it and found that it was hurt. Then, we saw two people with guns. They were asking if we had seen a bird flying here. When they walked towards us, we quickly hid the bird. They didn't see the bird so they left. After that we started to suggest what we could do to help the bird.

After a few minutes of thinking, Amber suggested we get some water for it to drink and clean its wounds. Luna and I agreed so I went to the nearest waterfall to take some water. I wanted to use our water bottles to take the water but we all forgot to bring our water bottles. Therefore, I had to use a leaf to take the water. I knew time was running out so I quickly took a leaf, took some water and shouted loudly, "I got the water now. Let's clean its wounds and give it some water!"

Then Amber quickly took the water, cleaned its wounds and gave it some water to drink. Just to make sure the bird was okay, we ran down the hill and called the animal service. After that we helped the bird find its mum and it flew away happily.
