

Be responsible

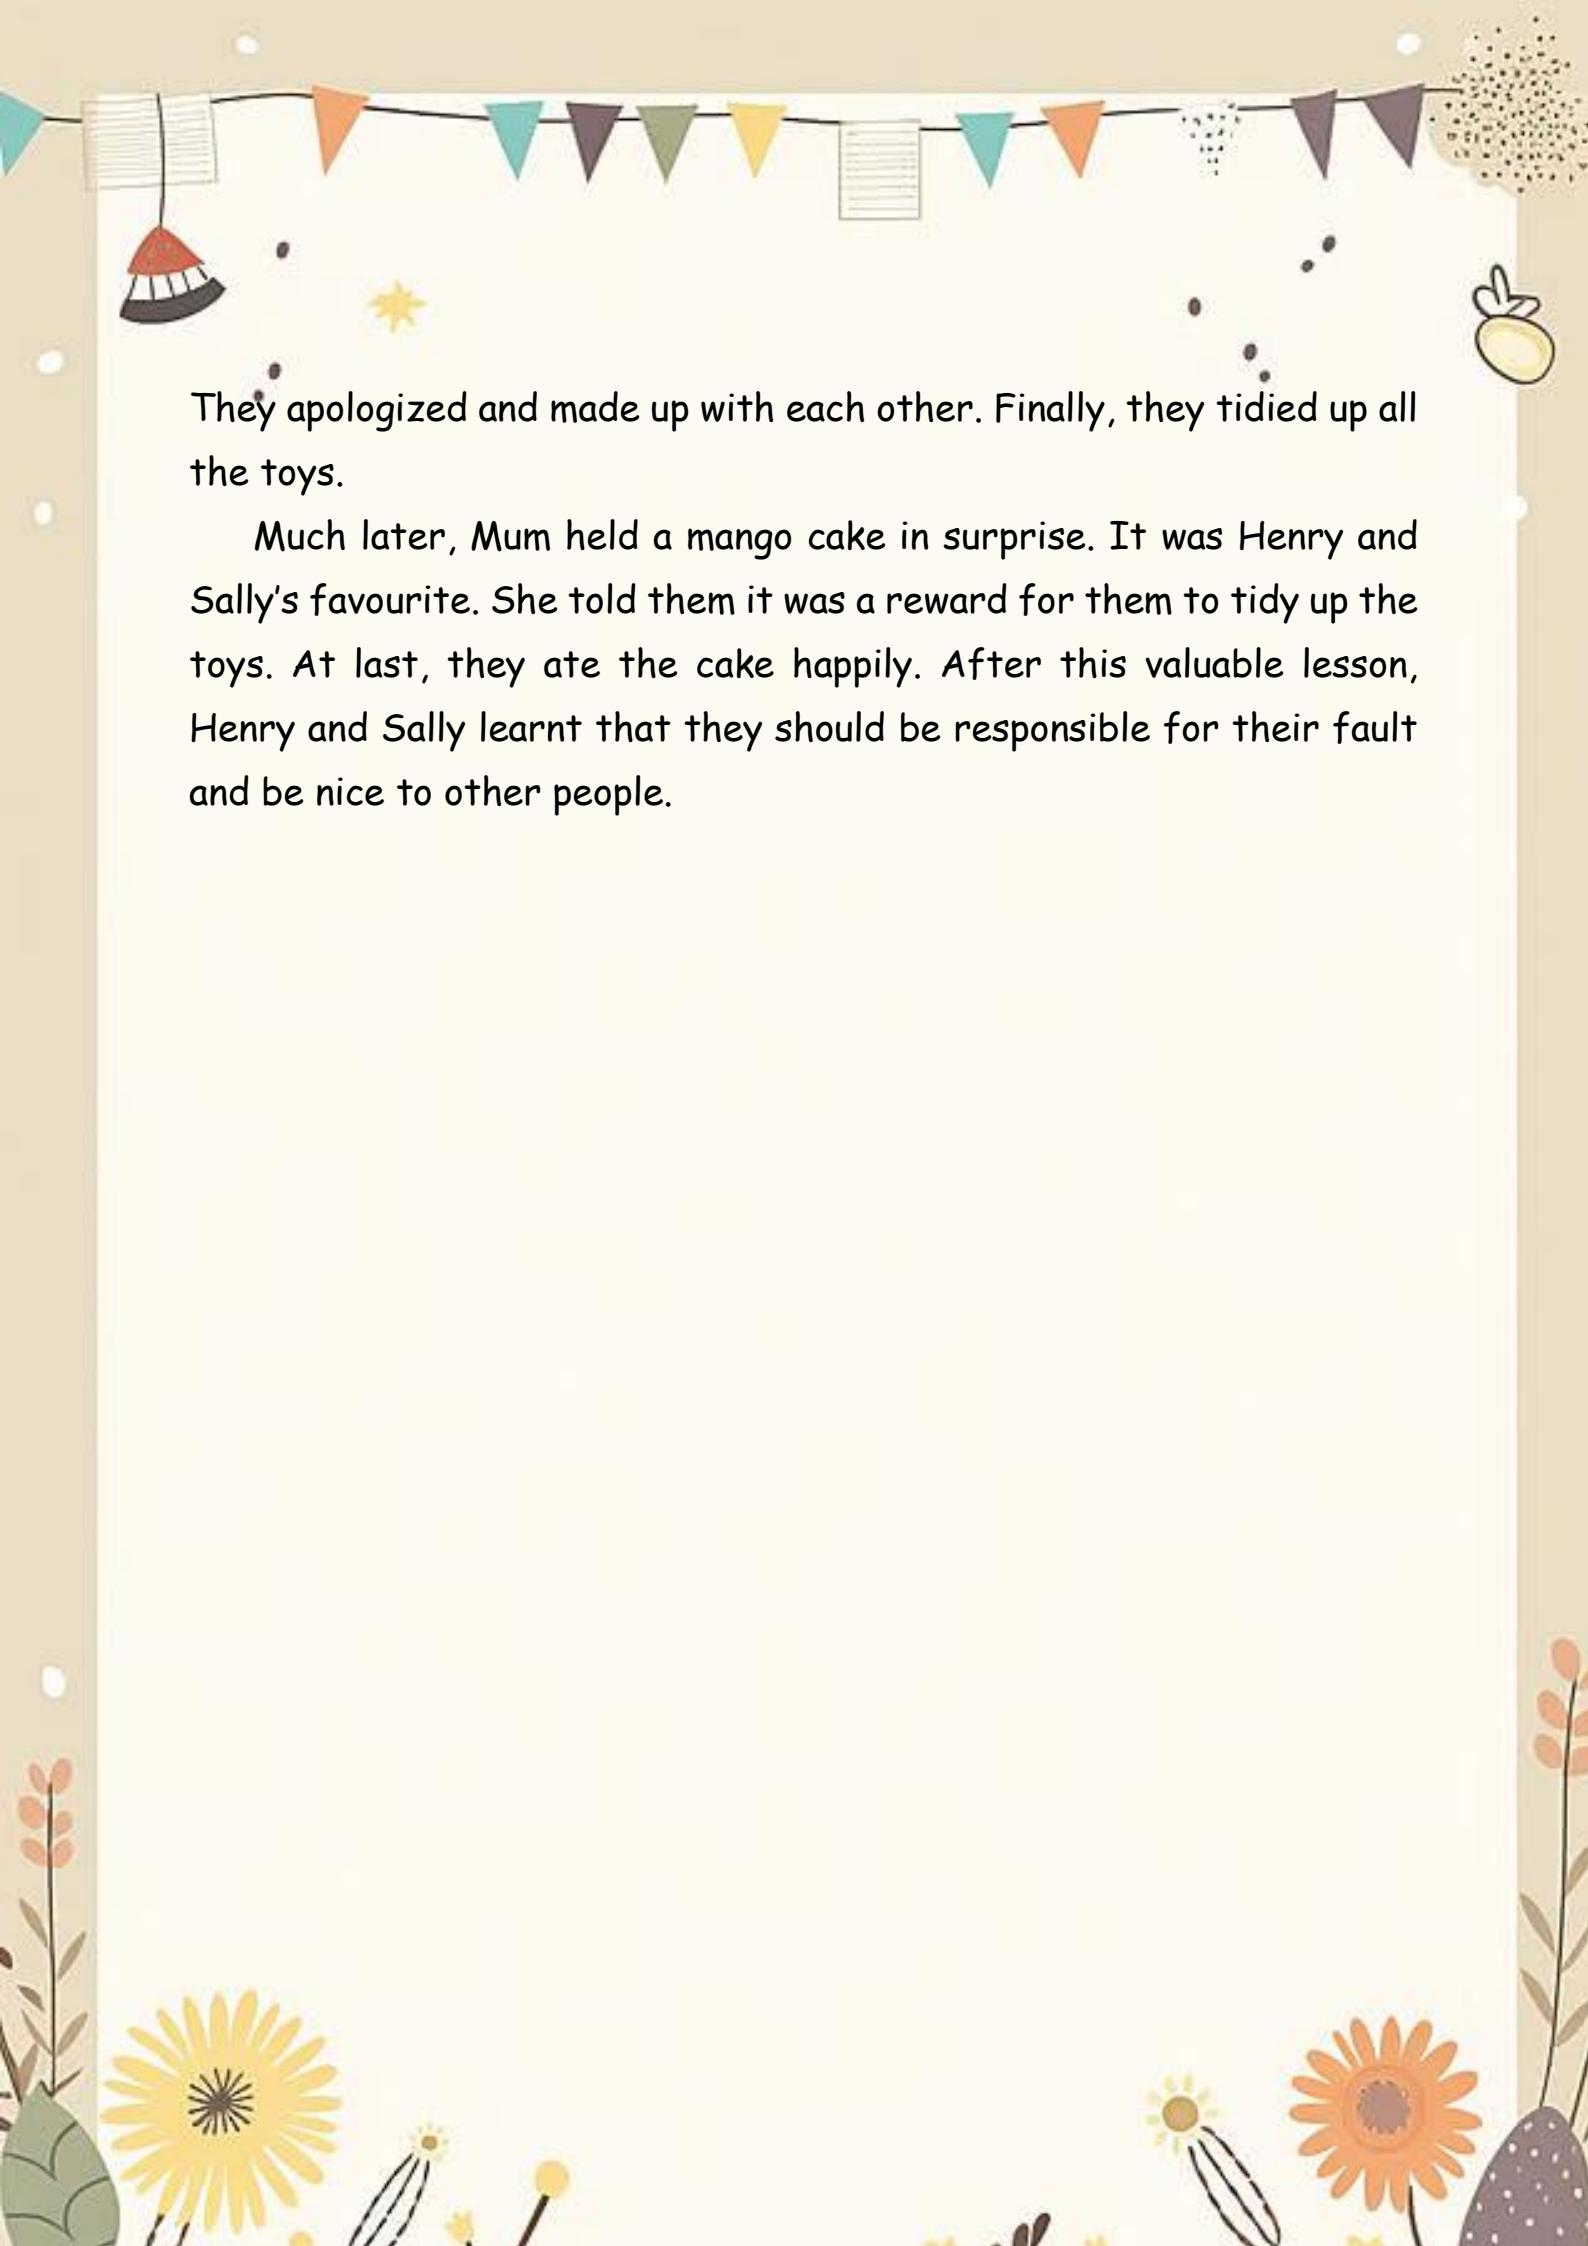

5F Cheung Pui Yu Bella

Last Sunday, it was too hot outside so Henry and Sally were at home. They woke up early. They were bored so they wanted to play with toys and chase with the dog. It was very messy. The robot was on the ground, the teddy bear was on the sofa and the ball was thrown around in the living room. Later, their Mum got up from the bed to go to the toilet. Suddenly, she tripped over a toy car carelessly but Henry and Sally did not notice her.

"Ouch! My leg is hurt and painful," screamed Mum. Henry and Sally heard Mum screaming so they stopped playing. They helped her to stand up. Mum was so furious that she glared at them. She shouted angrily like a tiger, "Put the toys in the boxes in twenty minutes!" They hung their heads and apologized to Mum in shame. Then, she went to the bathroom.

Henry and Sally tidied up the toys at once. However, they started arguing soon because they did not want to tidy up. Henry wanted to read some comics and Sally wanted to play some computer games. Nobody wanted to tidy up. Henry yelled loudly, "This is all your fault so you must tidy up!" "No! You put that toy car on the ground so Mum tripped over it!" argued Sally. They quarreled louder and louder that all the people in the building could hear.

Henry and Sally were noisy and Mum heard their voice. Then she went out of the bathroom. She shouted seriously, "Henry and Sally, stop!" They were suddenly in silence that you could hear a pin drop on the ground. Henry and Sally were scared and their hands were shaking. Then, Mum calmed the disputes, "You two shouldn't argue with each other and should be nice to others. Let's tidy up the toys together."

They apologized and made up with each other. Finally, they tidied up all the toys.

Much later, Mum held a mango cake in surprise. It was Henry and Sally's favourite. She told them it was a reward for them to tidy up the toys. At last, they ate the cake happily. After this valuable lesson, Henry and Sally learnt that they should be responsible for their fault and be nice to other people.

A visit to the country park

5H Harley Cheng Hoi Lam

I went to a country park yesterday. It was my first time to visit this country Park. The landscape was beautiful and the sky was blue. It was perfect to fly my favourite kite. The wind was strong which was super good for fly kites. I was over the moon because my kite danced in the sky beautifully. It was a nice day.

When I was flying my kite, I saw four children having a picnic on the lawn. They had a lot of food, for example, sandwiches, sushi and some snacks. They were chatting and playing games happily. They had so much fun.

After a while, the children finished their food but they didn't clean up their mess. They left their rubbish on the lawn. I was angry like a lion. It would damage the environment of the country Park! Finally, I shouted at the children, "Hey! You have to throw away the rubbish!" However, they ignored me and left the country Park. I thought I needed to do something. So I started picking up the mess and threw it into the rubbish bin. It was important to keep the park clean.

Moreover, we need to educate the public to protect the beautiful environment. Let's work together!

A Fishing Day

5L Lee Chi Shun, Jason

Hi Dave,

How are you? I had an awful day last Sunday. Last Sunday was a sunny day. My uncle, my cousin and I got our fishing rods and a bucket to go fishing at a pier. All of us were very excited.

We arrived at the pier early in the morning. We sat down at the pier and started fishing. We chatted happily. When we got a fish, we cheered loudly. At noon, we were all tired and hungry so we took out our lunchboxes to have lunch together. I bought some sandwiches at the market and I shared one with my cousin. We were all joyful.

Suddenly, a bird came closed to me and stole my sandwich and flew away immediately! My cousin was scared and I was shocked. We could not do anything because we could not fly.

At that moment, I felt sad and wanted to cry but my uncle and cousin comforted me. My cousin said, 'Don't be sad! I share my sandwich with you.' I was very grateful. My cousin was very kind. I learnt that we needed to share what we had with others. After we finished our lunch, we went home. I felt very happy today.

Love,

Jenny

An Unforgettable Experience on the Bus

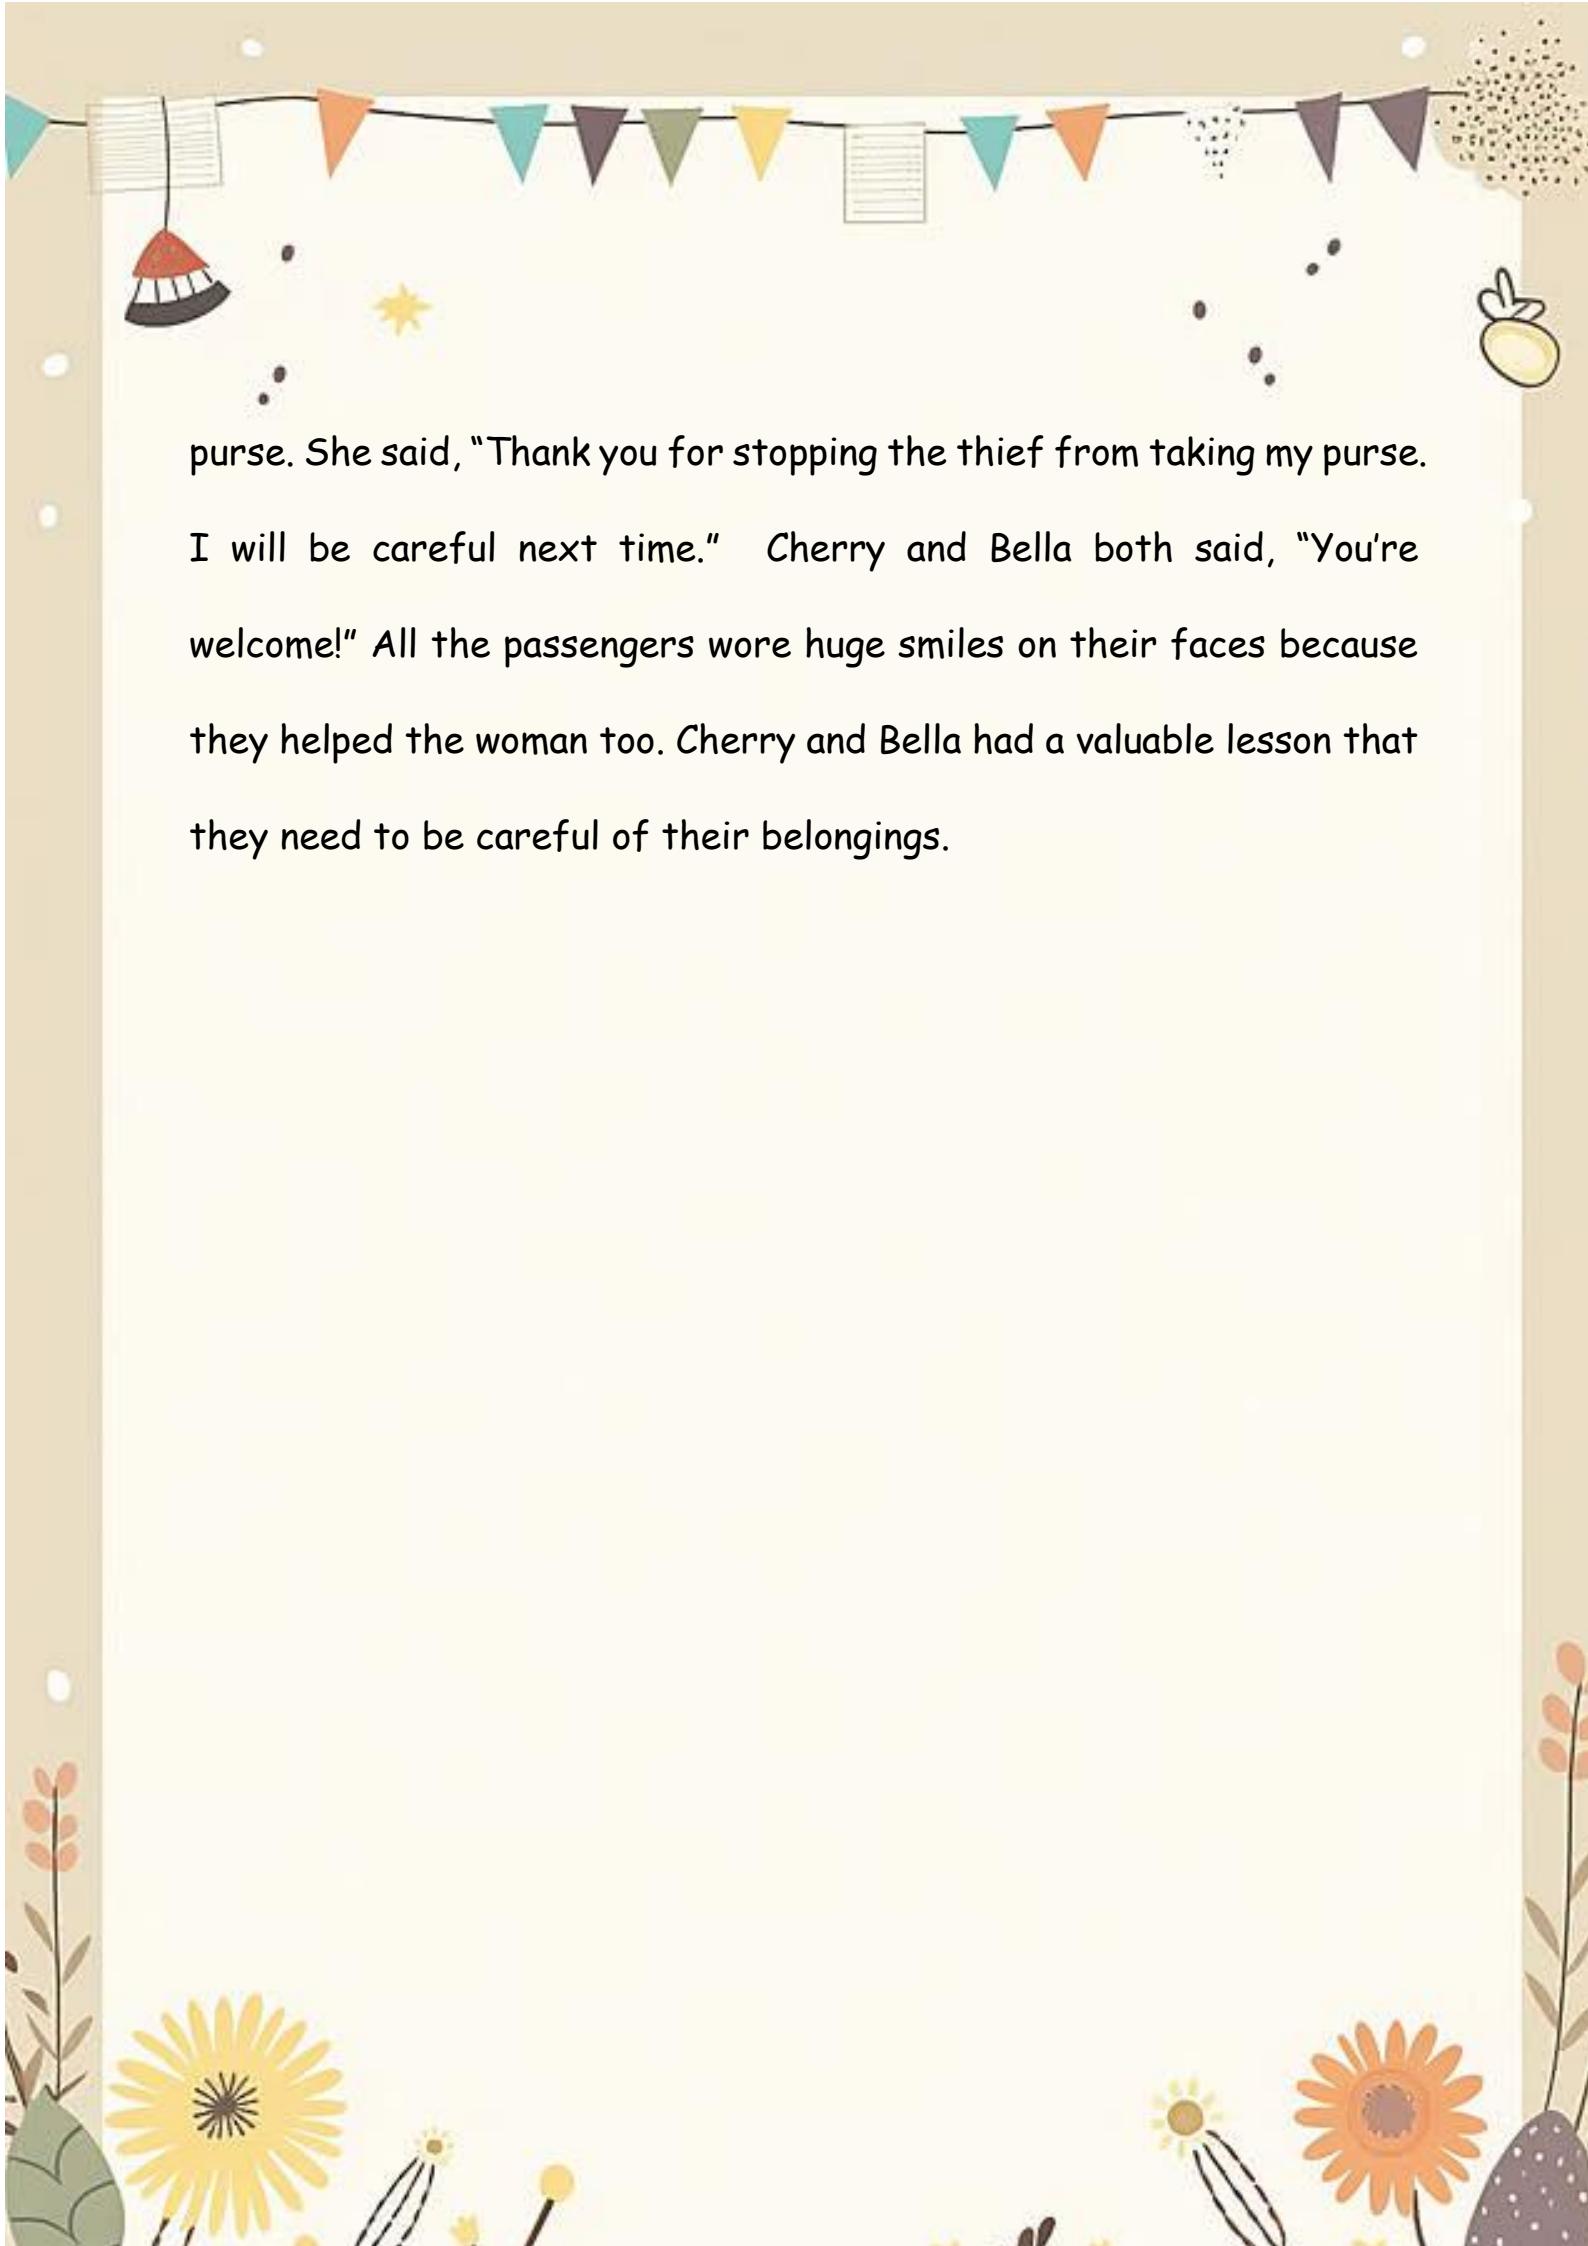

5S Celine Lam

Last Sunday, the sun greeted everyone. Cherry and Bella went to the bus stop to take a bus because it was their friend May's birthday. She invited Cherry and Bella to join her birthday party at home. Soon the bus arrived. Bella and Cherry got on the bus with huge smile.

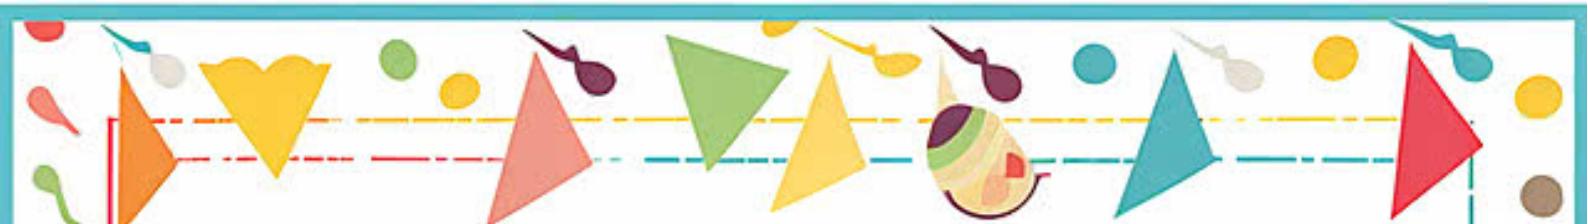

There were not many people on the bus. Bella and Cherry found empty seats easily. A man with a tie was reading a book when a woman with a handbag fell asleep. A man in a cap sat next to her in quiet silence. It was the first time Cherry and Bella went out without their parents, so they took a selfie to upload to the social media. They shared this special moment with their friends. They were happy as a lark.

In the blink of an eye, the man in the cap stole the purse from the woman's handbag. Luckily, Bella and Cherry saw that. Bellas shouted, "Stop! What are you doing?" Everyone on the bus stared at the man and at the same time, Cherry took a photo of the thief. The passengers were mouth-opened. The man with the tie reported the incident to the bus driver. The bus filled with an uneasy silence.

Meanwhile, the bus stopped the next stop. The police officers got on the bus and caught the thief at once. And the woman took back her purse. She said, "Thank you for stopping the thief from taking my purse. I will be careful next time." Cherry and Bella both said, "You're welcome!" All the passengers wore huge smiles on their faces because they helped the woman too. Cherry and Bella had a valuable lesson that they need to be careful of their belongings.

A Successful Basketball Player- Mary Lam

5T Si Chang Heng, Alva

Have you ever heard about sports heroes? Let me tell you about our school star basketball player's experience. She is Mary Lam. Mary has been the captain of the CBLMC basketball team since 2023. She has won three MVP awards at inter-school competitions and also won two trophies for the school. In addition, she has appeared in the CBLMC newsletter. However, there is an impressive story behind her success.

It all started back in primary two. Mary was training for an upcoming competition with her teammates on the school basketball court. Children cheered for them during their training. Their sneakers squeaked on the floor as they sweated under the hot sun. When they successfully shot a ball, everyone shouted loudly, including the other children watching the game. They all jumped up and down because of their victory. Everything was going well until something unexpected happened.

When Mary was running, she accidentally tripped over a rock. She screamed loudly, and everyone in the school could hear her as she landed on the floor. Tears shone in her eyes as she held her ankle. Everyone saw that and immediately knew she had twisted her ankle by her expression. "It hurts... The pain won't stop..." Mary cried. Her coach ran towards her and asked, "Are you okay, Mary? Did you hurt your ankle?" "Yes, I twisted my ankle. It seems I can't walk," replied Mary. "I'll call the ambulance right away," her coach said. While waiting for the ambulance, some of her teammates came up to her and said, "Don't worry, Mary! Everything will be fine. Your ankle will heal, and you will walk again in no time." They comforted Mary while waiting for the ambulance to arrive.

Finally, the ambulance arrived. A few paramedics carried Mary to the ambulance. Mary's body was shaking, and her heart was beating fast. "Can I walk again after my ankle heals? Can I play in the competition? Can I still continue to play basketball?" Mary thought as she was taken to the hospital.

After they arrived at the hospital, Mary saw the doctor. The doctor asked, "What's the matter?" "I've twisted my ankle. Now it hurts so much," Mary replied. The doctor checked her ankle and used a bandage to cover it. "Your injury isn't serious. You need to get some rest and avoid sports for two weeks."

After Mary's ankle recovered, she didn't give up because of her injury. She put a lot of effort into her basketball training. She attended physical therapy sessions regularly and worked hard on basketball every day after school. Her determination helped her soar higher. But she wasn't alone; her coach helped her train her basketball skills. Sometimes she wanted to quit because she was tired and still hurt from the twisted ankle. However, her teammates cheered her up and encouraged her not to give up. Her hard work paid off. Her basketball skills improved significantly, and she joined the competition and won a trophy. Overcoming difficulties helped her grow. Now she shines brightly as a basketball star.

I admire her because her never-give-up spirit led to her success and made her a role model for people in our school. I learned that we should never give up and be brave when facing challenges, just like Mary Lam.
